S. DEWITT

The surfer, having purchased the pleasant retreat at the upper end of the city on the River bank, known as the TEN PIN TREE HOUSE, and having made thorough and extensive improvements, is prepared to accommodate the citizens of Louisville and the public generally on terms commensurate with their patronage. He has erected several summer houses and a large arched shed addition a fine flower garden upon the premises. There are also two Ten-Pin Alleys in fine order. The bar is supplied with a choice lot of liquors and is thankful for the patronage heretofore bestowed, and he earnestly hopes to merit a continuance of the same.

Yours truly,
J. B. ITTNER

P. S. It is a cool and pleasant ride up the River but this is one of the most quiet, delightful retreats in the vicinity of Louisville.

MR. F. PISTORIUS,
Having returned, after an absence of several weeks, we are prepared to give prompt attention to all orders. We have left at our store for Tunica and Repairing. Pistorius being a very thorough and experienced Tunica maker would cheerfully recommend him to all persons who have their instruments tuned or repaired in a superior manner. We guarantee entire satisfaction to all who wish to employ him.

FOR THE HUMAN HAIR:
SOMETHING NEW AND VALUABLE IN

Nett's Hyerion or Transcendental Hair
Fluid,
arresting the falling off of the Hair, removing Dandruff, drug, and curing Baldness.

HIS preparation is presented to the public with confidence in the superior virtues it possesses. It is used by many persons in this city, who are convinced that the most decided benefits it affords. It opens the pores of the scalp, and restores the natural color of the hair, and activity of the minute vessels of the head, removes dandruff and scurf, which clog the pores of the scalp, and prevent a healthy and natural growth of the fluids. It renders the hair soft and pliant, without overloading it with grease. It restores the gray hair to its original color. It brings out the color of the hair, and has a specific action upon the roots, the same, and the minute vessels from which they derive their nourishment.

On the heads of infants and children is often used.

of scurvy should always be removed, prevents the growth of the hair. The Hyperion in old age there is usually a predisposition to debility on the part of the head and the strands, which the Hair Fluid will remove. After sickness this remedy is especially applicable, such times the minute vessels pertaining to the head of a general debility, and need nourishment. These periods of weakness falls out faster than other times; hence the necessity of using the Hyperion.

TO THE LADIES

This word is scarcely necessary. A preparation that renders the hair silky, give it a beautiful gloss, and make it free from dandruff, will readily find favor with them. They cannot be otherwise than friendly to its use.

For toilet use it is unsurpassed by any preparation which is undoubtedly superior to Pomades, Oils,

WONDERFUL PROOF!
DR. BLACKWELL'S
Compound Sirup of Sarsaparilla and Versicola.

And Cluquet. And even then the dazzling splendor of the vast masses fell into the favor of man, if they become the instruments of his holy desire. We see Mesmerism, Clairvoyance, and Spiritualism, absorbing too much of the attention of rational intelligent beings, even to the detouring of the prime intelligence. All feeling an inter-est in man, and the welfare of the community, and in the welfare of the human race, we would resort to their serious consideration, we would compound Simp of Saraparilla and Iris Versicolour. We must the same investigation, by way of trial, be extended to other objects of less importance. We are its superiority to any similar claim could even be proved, and coffee the public to procure its cure of the most common ailments, as KIDNEY, Dispepsia, Jaundice, Female Diseases, Eruptions of the Skin, Swelled Glands, and all diseases of man; are state of the blood.

In testimony of the eminent virtues of this Compound I submit a certificate from a reliable citizen, with a vision of an excellent physician:

LOUISVILLE, June 3, 1876.

Dr. Blackwell.—Dear Sir: I wish through this medium to inform you of the success of your Sarsaparilla in my little daughter. She is now eight years of age. In infancy she has been troubled with a breaking eruption both resembling Scurvy. At the intervals her face was covered over with large tumours towards the close of last winter she grew so ill that she had been before, that I became alarmed as to making application to a Physician who had recently heard of your Sarsaparilla as being a purifier for the blood. I immediately procured a bottle and commenced using it. It has cured her skin and improved her general health.

up I could see a marked change to the better.
 continued its use until the third bottle was taken, entire cure was effected. I am now happy to enjoy better health than she ever did before. In fact I must say I consider your Sarsaparilla one of the best medicines now in use for curing the blood purifying diseases arising from its impurity. I desire to accept my most sincere thanks and well wishes.
 J. A. DOUGHERTY

Here is the opinion of a Physician of the city,
 a prominent citizen in question:
 Dr. J. P. Blackwell—Sir: In reply to yours I will state that I have examined your receipt for your Compound of Sarsaparilla and Iris Veronica, and commend it as an excellent purifier. Continued

Respectfully,

More Scott Literature.—Read in our paper this morning another native letter from Scott—late as 1844, and more native than ever. He was "fired with indignation" again. This time he was foreigners off entirely. He goes the whole figure, and would not let them vote at all, unless they have served two years in the army or navy. It is signed America, and copied by the N. Y. Herald from the National Intelligencer. General Scott is the author, the editor says, and he is ready to prove it if it is called in question. Besides, it is written in that admirable and classical style which our neighbor of the Journal is so much taken with, and which, for the sake of distinction, may be called Scott literature.

Letter from Gen. Pillow.—Gen. Gideon J. Pillow has written a letter to the editors of the Nashville Union in defense of Gen. Pierce's conduct and bearing in mind. Pillow was so unfortunate in writing that notorious letter in the name of "Leonard," puffing his own conduct in Mexico, that we are really a little surprised, or rather shocked, to find that he should have been so ungenerous to his neighbor in the most intimate of his friends. The truth is, if he had any more sensibility than a terrapin, his detection in regard to the authorship of that most infamous letter would have caused him to keep as far aloof as possible from human observation—causing him to be himself in the lowest depths of the ditch when he dug at Campagna upon the inside of his breast.

This is printed and published by the editor of the Journal after his homilies upon the depravity of publishing slanders from partisan motives. The editor is shocked from head to foot when the truth is told in the midst of terms up on a wig candidate, but he can publish and republish a slander upon a democrat without the smallest compunction. It will be remembered that Gen. Pillow was charged with writing this letter, and that the case was rigidly examined before a court of inquiry. There was not a word of proof of the charge; on the contrary, it was thoroughly disproved. Gen. Pillow neither wrote the letter nor procured it to be written, and the court acquitted him of the charge without hesitation. Notwithstanding this, the editor of the Journal republishes the charge with as much impudence as if it had never been investigated and disproved.

This is not a mere question of fairness or unfairness, but one of common honesty and veracity. If a man cannot be exempt from such charges as this after a trial and acquittal, and after eminent services, it is certainly a hard case. It is enough to submit to the exaggeration of offences proved, without being dogged with unfounded slanders. We pronounce this charge a slander—a disproved and utterly unfounded slander, and the reiteration of it unworthy of any editor, much more of one who republishes slanders to his readers upon the wickedness and depravity of party attacks upon distinguished men.

The Whigs had an uproarious meeting in Knoxville, Tennessee, a few days since. A series of resolutions were offered declining to support Scott. The chairman and secretary were anti-Scott whigs. A. G. Swan, an anti-Scott whig, and whig attorney general of the State, supported the resolutions in a speech.

A substitute was offered acquiescing in the nomination, and after a fierce debate, in which Brownlow made a speech, which he says suited him, against the substitute, the question was put, and it was doubtful which side had it, but the general opinion was that the substitute had the most votes—hard up though; and whilst they were trying to get a count, the meeting adjourned in great confusion.

Person Brownlow, the whig editor of that place, repudiates Scott and denounces him without measure. To show how it goes in that State, read the following:

Our Prospects—Cheering!
A copy of our Whig, for the 19th of June has been returned to us, with the following endorsement on the margin: "We are for Scott all the time, and you can just keep your paper where you print it."

We are sorry that we can't agree with you in anything. You are for Scott all the time, and we are against him to the bitter end! You direct us to keep our paper where it is printed. We will do so much, but we will not print your rascals. We will do so much, but we will not print your rascals. We will do so much, but we will not print your rascals.

Cost of Having a Man.—On Monday week the board of supervisors of New York awarded the bill of Thomas Carney, Sheriff, for hanging Otto Grunzig. The total expense was $88 11.

Man Killed.—A man named John Graft, a resident of this city, and a shoemaker by trade, was killed in New Albany, on Saturday evening, by falling from the porch of a building in that city.

A woman who resides in Jersey city, who has been married thirty years, and is now about fifty years of age, gave birth to her twenty-eighth child a day or two since.

T. Boyd, a lad, fell into a well 60 feet deep, with 5 feet of water in it, at Gettysburg, Pa., a few days ago, and was taken out unhurt.

Two men, who were nearly suffocated at Pon de Lve, Mich., recently, in a deep well, by impure air, were saved by putting down upon them a full supply of cold water.

The New York Councils and the papers of that city are at loggerheads, in consequence of the latter charging the former with bribery and corruption.

The hotels at Cape May and Newport are rapidly filling up, and the gay season has already commenced.

The Common Council of New Haven, Conn., have refused to grant licenses for circus performances by a vote of 14 to 9.

T. B. Hubbard has been nominated for Congress by the free-soil party of Mercer county, Pa.

A diamond of the first water, weighing four grains, was found a few days ago in a gold mine by Mr. Arwood, near Charlotte, N. C.

The New York Board of Aldermen have resolved to procure a full length portrait of Henry Clay, to be placed in the City Hall.

The citizens of Georgia are about to erect a monument in memory of Hon. William H. Crawford.

The Boston firemen are paid. There are 613 men in the department, and the semi-annual pay-roll amounts to $12,068 95.

Dr. Ezekiel Holmes, of the Maine Farmer, has been nominated by the free-soilers of Maine for Governor.

Gen. Scott, it is said, has declined to attend the proposed whig celebration at Niagara.

Notice to subscribers to the "Union."
It will be seen by a notice which appears in another column, that the publishers of the "Louisville Daily Union" have suspended the publication of that paper. Those who have paid for the Union in advance, we are requested to say, will be served the balance of their time with the Daily Democrat, or their money refunded as they may elect.

We are also prepared to supply all others who have been subscribers to the "Union," with the Democrat, early and prompt. All orders left at our office will meet with strict attention.

Navigation between this point and the mouth of the Ohio continues much restricted. Several sand bars have made their appearance, and none but the lightest draught boats can get over them. A slight rise is reported in the river at Pittsburgh, which will probably have the effect of keeping the river at its present stage here.

The Ben Franklin, which started for Cincinnati on Sunday morning, proceeded on her route rising Sun day, there not being sufficient water on the bar to allow her to pass. The passengers were transferred to the Lady Pike, and the Ben returned Sunday morning. She will probably be able to get over this time, as the current has washed away a channel in the sand.

The largest circus canvas ever used, devotes less than 6000 superficial feet for seating the audience. The Floating Palace is 180 long by 50 feet wide, making 9000 superficial feet, or 7500 besides the ring, which is of the usual size, besides 4000 superficial feet of seats in the gallery. The Saint Charles Theatre in New Orleans, the largest Theatre in America, devotes 60 feet front by 90 feet deep, to seating the audience, making 5400 feet of superficial.

Drawing and Fainting.
Now is the opportunity to learn to paint a beautiful picture in fifteen lessons, of an hour each. Prof. Searle, who has been teaching for two years with the greatest success in Cincinnati, has opened rooms on Fourth street, near the Mozart Hall, for the exhibition of his splendid specimens of painting, and to receive pupils. Call and see him.

The Democrats of the Spencer, Perry, and Warren district, Indiana, have nominated Hon. G. H. Roberts, of Warren, as their candidate for Senator. Mr. R. has heretofore served in the Senate with great credit to himself and advantage to his constituents. There is little or no doubt of his election.

The Democrats of Spencer have nominated Jas. Pollock for Representative.

Jenny Goldschmidt has left London for the continent. The papers record the receipts from her, by the Swedish government, of $50,000, to be employed in establishing primary schools in those localities where the number of such institutions is below the wants of the population. Now that Jenny is likely to have a family, she will be more saving of her pennies.

STEAMBOATS WITHOUT CHIMNEYS.—It is said eight steamboats are building to run up the river Thames. They are to be fitted up in American style, to draw only eighteen inches water, and the smoke is to be carried by a blow-er under the paddle wheels.

EXPORT OF COIN.—The steamer Pacific took only $457,000 in specie, viz: American gold, $435,000; English gold, $22,424 sterling. The smallness of the amount serves to strengthen the money market. Its abundance increases.

CORN AND OATS.—About Atlanta, and in Illinois, the crops of corn and oats look very promising for an abundant yield. Corn has been kept back by the unfavorable weather, but no early frosts intervene the yield will be very large and good.

ARRIVAL OF EMIGRANTS.—The packet ship Henry Clay arrived at New York on the 13th, with 665 emigrants from Liverpool. Several other ships arrived the same day, with large numbers of steerage passengers.

A gentleman from Boston has invented a lamp for burning spirit gas, or burning fluid, which renders an explosion utterly impossible, even if the flame is brought in contact with the fluid at the office of the lamp.

The citizens of Georgia are about to erect a monument in memory of Hon. William H. Crawford.

Judge McKinley.—We were pained yesterday to hear of the death of this distinguished jurist. He had been for some time in feeble health, but had not been confined in his room, and his demise was not looked for with little warning. The deceased was born in Virginia, May 1, 1780, and was, of course, in the 73d year of his age. He was removed to this State when a child, and was brought up in this commonwealth. He studied law with Judge Rowan in Lexington, and moved to Alabama in 1818. He was soon elected to the Legislature in that State, and served in both branches. He served for a time as Circuit Judge. Afterwards, he was elected to Congress, and subsequently to the Senate of the United States. In 1837 he was appointed by Mr. Van Buren one of the Judges of the Supreme Court of the United States, which place he filled at the time of his death.

This brief sketch shows how large a share of the public confidence he enjoyed during a long life of public service. The aged cannot live always, but it is sad to see the aged of the past generation passing off, one after another, to that bourne whence no traveler returns. His judicial career we shall leave to other hands more competent to do it justice; but his death leaves a void amongst a wide circle of friends, whose regret will follow him to his last resting-place.

Since writing the above we have learned the following particulars:

Judge McKinley was first elected to the Senate of the United States in 1837 to fill a vacancy occasioned by the death of Dr. Chambers; he served in that body until 1832 when the term expired.

He was elected to the U. S. House of Representatives in 1832 and was re-elected in 1834, thus serving four years. In 1835 he was again elected to the U. S. Senate, but before he took his seat, he was appointed to the Bench of the Supreme Court, which office he continued to fill to the date of his death.

Disgraceful Row.
A most disgraceful row occurred on the wharf between Fifth and Seventh streets, and on Fifth and Sixth streets, on Sunday evening. The particulars of the affair, as related to us by one of the bystanders, are about as follows: The engineer and watchman of the steamer James Jackson, were asked at or near the Mississippi Office House, corner of Sixth and Water streets, by some Irish boatmen, and pretty severely beaten. Several of the crew of the boat threatened to attack the Irishmen in turn, and knocked one or two of them down. Here the fracas ended and the crowd dispersed. In about half an hour afterwards the bells sounded the alarm of fire and the Hope company took a direct route for the corner of Fifth and Water streets. Upon arriving there, it was discovered that there was no fire, and they started up Fifth street, followed by a large crowd, mostly boys and negroes. When the engine had proceeded a short distance the cry of "fight," "move 'em," &c., was heard, whereupon a general fight commenced. Several members of the Hope company, led on by fifteen or twenty men, negroes, and boys, started down Fifth street, throwing stones and other missiles at every Irishman they came across. The fight extended along the wharf from Fifth street down to Seventh. A number of persons were struck with bricks and considerably injured, but only one person, so far as we could learn, was seriously hurt. He was an Irishman, who resided on Sixth street, near Water. He had taken no part in the melee, and was quietly sitting in the door of his house. A shower of stones were hurled at him, one of which struck him upon the head, inflicting a severe wound. One person who, we believe, was a hand on the Mary Stephens, was chased by three or four men and negroes across the Third street bridge.

No police officers appearing upon the ground only a mob dispersed at their leisure. The statement above, that several of the Hope members participated in the mob, was made to us by a number of disinterested persons, and if it should, after investigation, prove untrue we will cheerfully make the correction. We made diligent enquiry and could hear of no other firm that was engaged in the fight although several members of other companies were upon the ground.

Hickory Pole Running.
The butchers at the upper end of Main street, intend raising a staunch young hickory on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, in butcher shops, above the Woodland Garden.

As many of the Democracy of the city and county as can make it convenient are invited to attend.

We call the attention of the public generally to the advertisement of the Preston State House. This house is now one of the most complete in the upper end of the city, and, under its present proprietor, it will always command a wide range of patronage.

ROBBERY.—A dwelling house on Green street, between Tenth and Eleventh, was robbed of fifty or eighty dollars on Friday night last. The burglar effected his entrance through a back window.

CORP DE SOLEIL.—An Irishman residing on the alley between Market and Jefferson and Preston and Floyd streets, was sun struck on Thursday, and died from the effects of it on Saturday.

We are indebted to the officers of the Glendy Burke for New Orleans papers, forwarded from Paducah.

It will be seen by reference to another column that Mr. Joseph Croton is a candidate for constable in the upper wards.

I know a rose
Which sweetly blows,
Its charms I ne'er can speak,
It blooms in gloom,
And warmly glows
Upon a maiden's cheek,
Oh! all the flowers I'er did see,
This rose the loveliest seems to me.

I know a bud,
A bright rose-bud,
Where beauty sweetly sleeps,
And opening fair
It breathes her life,
Oh! all the flowers I'er did see,

Of beauty rare,
It shines in her bright eye;
Its sparkling hue
Upon a maiden's eye,
Oh! all the stars I'er did see,
This star the brightest seems to me.

A wreath I know
Of virgin snow,
Which glows a mountain's crest;
But one more fair
Is resting there,
Upon her hallowed breast;
Oh! all the wreaths I'er did see,
This one the sweetest seems to me.

WEEKLY COMMERCIAL REVIEW.

MONDAY EVENING, July 19.
REMARKS.—The transactions in the general market this week, with the exception of Bagging and Rope, have been of a limited character, and in consequence of the low stage of the river, which restricts navigation, and the high rates demanded for freights, business has been very quiet. The Tobacco trade continues animated, notwithstanding the light receipts. The sales of a week took up 385 bales. The total sales since the 1st of November, 1881, amount to seventy thousand eight hundred and twenty bales. The market at the present time is firm, and prices during the week have been full. In the Provision market there has been very little animation. Mess Pork is unchanged, and Bacon continues firm. The Grocery market is quiet. Rice, Flour, and other articles are about the same as last week.

The weather during the last week was excessively warm—the thermometer ranging from 84 to 90. The river is at a very high stage, and continues to rise. There are about 5 feet water in the channel hence to the mouth, and boats experience much difficulty in getting along. Our telegraphic dispatches of Saturday report a slight rise in the river at Pittsburgh. Freights have advanced, and as the river goes down we presume freights will go up.

BAKING AND ROPE.—A considerable degree of activity has been manifested in the sales of bales of bagging and rope. The aggregate amount of sales, 12,000 pieces and 2,300 coils, in lots, as follows: 130 pieces at 12 1/2, 300 pieces at 12 1/2, 180 pieces at 12 1/2, 140 pieces at 12 1/2, 120 pieces at 12 1/2, 100 pieces at 12 1/2, 80 pieces at 12 1/2, 60 pieces at 12 1/2, 40 pieces at 12 1/2, 20 pieces at 12 1/2, 10 pieces at 12 1/2, 5 pieces at 12 1/2, 2 pieces at 12 1/2, 1 piece at 12 1/2, 1/2 piece at 12 1/2, 1/4 piece at 12 1/2, 1/8 piece at 12 1/2, 1/16 piece at 12 1/2, 1/32 piece at 12 1/2, 1/64 piece at 12 1/2, 1/128 piece at 12 1/2, 1/256 piece at 12 1/2, 1/512 piece at 12 1/2, 1/1024 piece at 12
